Proven, scalable and community-centred, Tradex enables the exchange of electronic trading documents, such as invoices and orders, between supply chain partners, without the need for paper or manual rekeying. Featuring an industry-leading breadth of functionality, Tradex integrates seamlessly with existing IT systems; reducing the cost of transaction processes and the impact these have on the environment.

customer invoices

When integrated with Causeway Plant Hire or Scaffold Hire & Sale, Tradex allows you to automatically send electronic invoices to your customers, providing significant time and cost savings.

With a subscription to Tradex, you can create trading relationships with your customers and send invoices without manual processing, including those for hire, sale, loss and damage. Soon, you'll also be able to send orders and electronic statements.

After stipulating which invoice types you want to exchange using Tradex, you can create these documents as normal. These are then uploaded into Tradex and automatically sent to your customers. This streamlines your invoice processing and improves visibility. It also offers clear benefits to your customer, who will be more readily able to process your invoices in a timely manner.

supplier invoices

Tradex will also connect you with your supply chain partners, if required. Many of your key suppliers may already be using Tradex, making it simple for them to send you invoices as well. For suppliers not already using Tradex, there is a wide range of connection options available; from a free online portal, to fully customised interfaces, directly linked with their back office accounts. Invoices you receive can therefore be imported without the need to manually re-key the invoice data.

universal solution

The connection between Plant and Scaffold Management and Tradex is simple to implement and easy to expand to additional trading partners.

A truly open trading community, customers and suppliers of all sizes can engage in eTrading using Tradex. The benefits of connecting to Tradex can be achieved within days and Tradex has been shown to reduce costs, save time and improve your business sustainability.

Developed in conjunction with HM Customs and Revenue, Tradex is a secure and scalable solution that handles millions of documents each year. Tradex has been adopted by companies of all sizes and gained a high reputation for customer service, having been voted eCommerce Product of the Year by Construction Computing in both 2009 and 2010.
